Thornton, Colorado: Today, former conservative Republican State House Representative, Janak Joshi, announced the launch of his campaign for Colorado's 8th Congressional District.

A retired physician and longtime community activist, Dr. Joshi pointed to his conservative record as a three-term Colorado State Representative to demonstrate why he will be the best leader for Colorado's diverse Congressional District 8.

"As a career physician and a conservative grassroots Republican leader, I have always put the well-being of others ahead of myself because I know that is what leadership should be all about," stated Joshi.

Citing the top rankings he's received from limited government, pro-small business, pro-life, and pro-2nd Amendment watchdog groups, Dr. Joshi stated why his conservative record and proven leadership are badly needed to return power from Congress back to the people.

"I'm the only candidate in this race with a proven conservative record to show that actions speak louder than mere words. We already have too many say-anything politicians that voters can't trust. To win this primary and general election, we need a citizen-focused, conservative leader who fights for every-day Americans and not the corrupt insiders who are ruining our country," continued Dr. Joshi.

An immigrant from India over 50 years ago, Doctor Joshi legally arrived in America with a suitcase, $100, and deep convictions to serve others first and uphold the rule of law.

"Today, illegal immigration, condoned by radical Democrats and weak-kneed Republicans, is destroying our country and mortgaging the future of our kids and grandkids. I will fight to finish the wall, crack down on sanctuary cities, and stop the flow of illegal immigrants pouring over our dangerously open borders," continued Joshi.

"Our precious rights as Americans come from God, not the federal government that is out-of-control with debt and spending and back-breaking laws and regulations that only rob citizens of their prosperity and freedom. Send me to Congress and I'll be big-government's worst enemy," concluded Janak Joshi.

Janak and his wife Anju make their home in Thornton, Colorado near their two children and two grandchildren.
